Introduction

The Relationships Education, Relationships, Sex Education and Health Education (England) Regulation 2019, made under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017, make Relationships Education compulsory for all pupils receiving primary education. (DfE guidance page 8)

“Today’s children and young people are growing up in an increasingly complex world and living their lives seamlessly on and offline. This presents many positive and exciting opportunities, but also challenges and risks. In this environment, children and young people need to know how to be safe and healthy, and how to manage their academic, personal and social lives in a positive way.”

“In primary schools, we want the subjects to put in place the key building blocks of healthy, respectful relationships, focusing on family and friendships, in all contexts, including online. This will sit alongside the essential understanding of how to be healthy.”

“These subjects represent a huge opportunity to help our children and young people develop. The knowledge and attributes gained will support their own, and others’ wellbeing and attainment and help young people to become successful and happy adults who make a meaningful contribution to society.”

(Secretary of State Foreword DfE guidance 2019 p.4-5)

Schools also maintain a statutory responsibility to promote their pupils wellbeing and to prepare children and young people for the challenges, opportunities and responsibilities of adult life. A comprehensive RE programme will have a positive impact on pupils’ health and wellbeing and their ability to thrive. At our school, we believe relationships education empowers our children to make informed decisions about their wellbeing, health and relationships.

Aims and Objectives

Relationship Education (RE) is lifelong learning about ourselves; it is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils and involves learning about relationships, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity. It involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values. It takes place in many contexts: at home, at school and in the community. Adults at our school, work toward providing a framework in which meaningful discussions can take place and creating a positive culture around the issue of relationships.

We seek to enable our children to:

- develop good interpersonal and communication skills, preparing them for the future
- develop caring and stable relationships based on mutual respect, recognise and avoid exploitative relationships
- respect themselves and others, their views, backgrounds, cultures and experiences
- be prepared for the physical and emotional effects of puberty
- value, care for and respect their bodies
- develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- be emotionally and physically healthy and safe.

Context

To ensure progression and a spiral curriculum, we use Jigsaw, the mindful approach to PSHE, as our chosen teaching and learning programme and tailor it our children’s needs. Jigsaw (<https://www.jigsawpshe.com/>) covers all areas of PSHE for the primary phase including statutory Relationships Education. The table below gives the learning theme of each of the six Puzzles (units) and these are taught across the school; the learning deepens and broadens every year.

Term	Puzzle (Unit)	Content
Autumn 1:	Being Me in My World Includes	understanding my own identity and how I fit well in the class, school and global community. Jigsaw Charter established.
Autumn 2:	Celebrating Difference	Includes anti-bullying (cyber and homophobic bullying included) and understanding
Spring 1:	Dreams & Goals	Includes goal-setting, aspirations, who do I want to become and what would I like to do for work and to contribute to society
Spring 2:	Healthy Me	Includes drugs and alcohol education, self-esteem and confidence as well as healthy lifestyle choices, sleep, nutrition, rest and exercise
Summer 1:	Relationships	Includes understanding friendship, family and other relationships, conflict resolution and communication skills, bereavement and loss
Summer 2:	Changing Me	Includes Relationships and Sex Education in the context of coping positively with change

Relationships Education in primary schools includes 'Families and people who care for me', 'Caring friendships', 'Respectful relationships', 'Online relationships', and 'Being safe'.

Health Education in primary schools includes: 'Mental wellbeing', 'Internet safety and harms', 'Physical health and fitness', 'Healthy eating', 'Drugs, alcohol and tobacco', 'Health and prevention', 'Basic First Aid', 'Changing adolescent body'.

The mapping document shows exactly how Jigsaw, and therefore our school, meets the statutory Relationship Education requirements (see Appendix A).

While we carry out the key aspects of sex education in Personal, Social and Health Education, we also follow the specific National Curriculum Science objectives. In Key Stage 1 Science, we teach children about how animals, including humans, move, feed, grow and reproduce, in addition to teaching them about the main parts of the body. In Key Stage 2 we teach about life processes and the main stages of the human life cycle in greater depth.

The Jigsaw 'Changing Me' Puzzle contains the 'explicit' work on these aspects (See appendix B). The children explore how boys and girls bodies change during puberty, the importance of looking after yourself physically and mentally at this time, accept that this happens at different times, relate changes to the conception process and how a baby develops from conception to birth.

Parents and carers of children in Key Stage 2 are informed of the intended resources to be used by the school in the teaching of sex education and when the lesson will take place.

Parents are unable to withdraw their children from the statutory relationship and health education covered within this topic.

"Parents have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of sex education delivered as part of statutory Relationships and Sex Education" DfE Guidance p. 17

If a parent/carer wishes their child to be withdrawn from sex education lessons, they should discuss this with the Head of School and make it clear which aspects of the programme they do not wish their child to participate in.

We understand the importance of ensuring that all children in our school have access to their entitlement to Relationships Education. In relation to nationality, sexual orientation, religion and cultural diversity, we value the different backgrounds of our pupils and seek to promote tolerance and understanding of different views and beliefs. In order to ensure the curriculum meets the needs of all, we will not promote one particular lifestyle over another. We will not seek to gain consensus, but will accept and celebrate difference. In relation to those with special educational needs or disability, we will review our RE programme to ensure that provision be made for those with additional needs.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life, taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances. Families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, and foster parents, along with families who may have a different structure of support around them, such as looked after children or young carers.

The role of parents

Parents and carers are key figures in supporting their children through the emotional and physical aspects of growing up. We wish to build a positive and supporting relationship with the parents/carers of children at our school through mutual understanding, trust and co-operation.

We will;

- inform parents/carers about the school's RE policy and practice and answer any questions parents/carers may have about the RE of their child;
- take seriously any issue that parents/carers raise with teachers or governors about this policy and the arrangements for RE.

We firmly believe that, in working together as a school community, children will benefit from being given consistent messages about their emotional and physical development, increasing responsibilities and help prepare them for the future.

Confidentiality and Child Protection/Safeguarding

Teachers conduct RE lessons in a sensitive manner and in confidence. However, if a child refers to being involved or likely to be involved in sexual activity or an abusive situation then the teacher will take the matter seriously and deal with it as a matter of child protection.

The role of the Head of School

It is the responsibility of the Head of School to ensure that both staff and parents/carers are informed about our Relationships Education policy, and that the policy is implemented effectively. It is also the Head of School's responsibility to ensure that members of staff are given sufficient training, so that they can teach effectively and handle any difficult issues with sensitivity.

Monitoring and review

Designated Member(s) of Staff
Kings Road Primary School	Lawford Mead Primary & Nursery School
Karen Riches (Head of School) Laura Lainchbury (PSHE Lead)	Matthew Poyton (Head of School) Laura Dockerill & Emma Cumpstey (PSHELeads)

This policy will be formally reviewed by the schools' Local Governing Committees on an annual basis or earlier if new guidance becomes available

Appendix A

Relationships Education in Primary schools – DfE Guidance 2019

The focus in primary school should be on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships, with particular reference to friendships, family relationships, and relationships with other children and with adults. The references R3/H5 etc can be cross-referenced on the Jigsaw mapping documents and Puzzle Maps to show which lessons throughout Jigsaw contribute to which statutory outcomes. All statutory outcomes are covered in the Jigsaw 3-11 Programme.

The guidance states that, by the end of primary school:

	Pupils should know...	How Jigsaw provides the solution
Families and people who care for me	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• R1 that families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability.</li> <li>• R2 the characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives.</li> <li>• R3 that others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care.</li> <li>• R4 that stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up.</li> <li>• R5 that marriage represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong (Marriage in England and Wales is available to both opposite sex and same sex couples. ## Physical health and mental well-being education in Primary schools – DfE Guidance

The focus in primary school should be on teaching the characteristics of good physical health and mental wellbeing. Teachers should be clear that mental well-being is a normal part of daily life, in the same way as physical health.

By the end of primary school:

	Pupils should know	How Jigsaw provides the solution
Mental wellbeing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• H1 that mental wellbeing is a normal part of daily life, in the same way as physical health.</li> <li>• H2 that there is a normal range of emotions (e.g. happiness, sadness, anger, fear, surprise, nervousness) and scale of emotions that all humans experience in relation to different experiences and situations.</li> <li>• H3 how to recognise and talk about their emotions, including having a varied vocabulary of words to use when talking about their own and others' feelings.</li> <li>• H4 how to judge whether what they are feeling and how they are behaving is appropriate and proportionate.</li> <li>• H5 the benefits of physical exercise, time outdoors, community participation, voluntary and service-based activity on mental well-being and happiness.</li> <li>• H6 simple self-care techniques, including the importance of rest, time spent with friends and family and the benefits of hobbies and interests.</li> <li>• H7 isolation and loneliness can affect children and that it is very important for children to discuss their feelings with an adult and seek support.</li> <li>• H8 that bullying (including cyberbullying) has a negative and often lasting impact on mental well-being.</li> <li>• H9 where and how to seek support (including recognising the triggers for seeking support), including whom in school they should speak to if they are worried about their own or someone else's mental well-being or ability to control their emotions (including issues arising online).</li> </ul>	All of these aspects are covered in lessons within the Puzzles <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Healthy Me</li> <li>• Relationships</li> <li>• Changing Me</li> <li>• Celebrating Difference</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• H10 it is common for people to experience mental ill health. For many people who do, the problems can be resolved if the right support is made available, especially if accessed early enough.</li> </ul>
